My Activity Stream

Version 33

Published 3/1/2017 12:57 AM by Anonymous User   Last updated 2/14/2024 04:39 PM by Vladana Garic

Your Activity Stream is the central hub for all the latest updates in your spaces. The Activity Stream shows a real-time stream of the latest activity and posts in all your spaces. Your connections' activity also appears on your Activity Stream, so you can keep up with what they're working on and who they're working with. The Activity Stream brings together everything that's important to you, ensuring you never miss out on new content and activity in your spaces.

From the Activity Stream, you can view and interact with new content. For example, you can see up to 9 photos added to an album, play videos directly from the feed, like content, comment on wall posts, and jump to a detailed view of posted content and user profiles.

The right column includes the following widgets:

- My Activity Ticker : Finer details of activity
- Online Now
- Invite People

What's on your mind

Wall updates are a simple and effective way to communicate with people and groups.

Links and videos in wall posts

There's a wealth of content on the Internet that you can link to and share in your community. In addition to linking to external content, links to videos posted to popular video sites like YouTube, Metacafe and Vimeo will play directly from within the Activity Stream.

Note: If you like you can remove the URL from the What's on your mind box. The video or link will remain. You can replace the URL with any message you want.

To change the thumbnail image for the video or link, click the left or right arrow to cycle through the available images. Click the box next to "No Thumbnail" to choose no image.
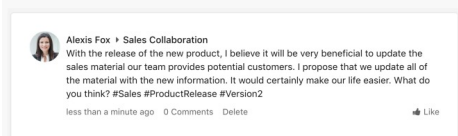

@Mention people in wall posts

@Mentions are a great way to get someone's attention or direct other readers to a particular user. When you tag a person with an @mention they will receive a notification - see Notifications . @Mentions are public, visible to everyone and link to the user's profile.

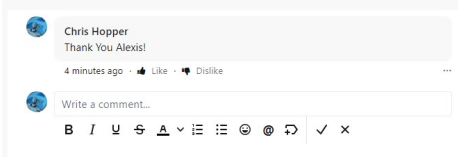

#hashtags in wall posts

Use #hashtags to categorize and add context to your posts.

When someone clicks on the hashtag in your wall post they will be taken to a search screen showing other content on the site tagged with the same keyword.

Commenting on wall posts

Comments allow community members to have a discussion with you and with each other. When you write a new post, members can respond by adding a comment. When your post receives a comment or someone replies to one of your comments you will receive a notification.

Posting on another user's wall

You can post to another user's Activity Stream if they are connected to you. They will receive a notification about the wall post. Post on someone's wall to ask a question, start a conversation, or follow up on something.

To post on someone's wall, first visit their profile then click Activity Stream.

Enter a message in the What's on your mind? textbox, then click Post.

Note: Only the author of the wall post can edit the wall post. Mentioned user can delete the wall post only.

Filter

You can filter your activity stream to display All New, Wall Posts, New Content, Recognition, Article, Blog, Case, Event, File, Forum, Idea, Photo, Poll, Space, Survey, User, Video, or Wiki.

Article
Blog
Case
Event
File
Forum

Like   Dislike

...

ed a new case in Human Resources

equest time off for maternity?
How do I request time off for maternity?

3 years ago   1 Comments

Like   Dislike

Related

Axero Intranet Browser Extension

Quickly share external links in Communifire using the Communifire browser extension.

tags : member