Connect with colleagues, share activity, and increase productivity.

Below are the benefits of connecting with your colleagues.

- What's on your mind? posts in My Activity Stream are shared between connections.
- Connections can post on each other's walls.
- Your connections' activities in public spaces will appear in your My Activity Stream.
- Your activities in public spaces will appear in your connections' My Activity Stream.
- You can Share Calendar with all your connections at once.
- Connections can only message each other if "Chat with Only Connections" is set in Site Settings > Enable chat.

On the Connections page, you can view and edit your connections and accept or ignore connection requests.
