The final step is to launch your intranet. In this step, you will learn about the mass email feature and support and upgrade information.

Mass Email

You can send a mass email to your intranet users in Communifire, or use our pre-made email template in your own email system. Check out the links below to learn more about mass emails.

Intranet Launch Strategy: How to Train Your Employees to Use Your New Intranet

Training is a critical step to launching your intranet. If your intranet training strategy is unorganized, doesn't fit your company culture, or does not show the value, your employees will be confused or resistant to use it.

We know what works because we've deployed Communifire for hundreds of customers – like Toyota and Ikea and local banks and pet stores. It doesn't matter your company size or industry, our 3-part training strategy will ensure every member of your organization learns how to use Communifire, and has fun doing it.
