Your user profile provides an overview of your personal information. Your profile displays your profile photo, name, job title, department, work and contact information, and more. The user profile also includes links to your personal Activity Stream, your relationships, your recognition, your spaces, and your content.

Customize user profiles in your intranet with your own profile fields. You can select from a variety of profile field types and configure them to your desire. Make profile fields required or optional, set default values, allow only specific roles to view certain profile fields, and more.
