Add an integration account in the Control Panel. The account will be available for use in all spaces. To make the account available for use in a specific space only, add the account in Manage Space instead. See .

Note: A site administrator must complete an admin setup before you add the account.

Integration Setup Guides

Check out our integration setup guides for instructions on setting up a specific integration. The setup guides walk you through the entire process of setting up the integration and adding a connected account in Communifire.
