I was excited to find this brave little challenge in the sea of productivity and negativity complaints. Here's a person, I thought, who is not out to brainwash and slave-drive her fellow coworkers. But to refresh and entertain! This is an update.

I was excited because she and I have the same passion. I am not looking to bore people to death with stale ideas either. I am here to make sure you have a good time. If possible, in more ways than one. But if you asked me what my biggest challenge was in writing these posts, I wouldn't say "fresh ideas." I'd say: the time to record all the amazing stuff I come across every day.

One reason is that it's easier to blab about stuff than to put on actual events. But then again, she didn't say "execution." She said "ideas."

Where do ideas come from? If every time I had to write a l topics on the Internet, I would probably get bored myself.
Because people like her kindly leave their comments on m have 10,000 and some ideas for bloq posts.
